

Announcement

Singapore/Kuala Lumpur, May 23, 2017

We are very pleased to announce that Nexus Analytics Pte Ltd in Singapore and Nexus Analytics Sdn Bhd in Malaysia are now members of the Melchers Group of Companies.

Effective May 16, 2017, C. Melchers GmbH & Co., Singapore Branch has acquired 100% of the shares in both entities. Nexus Analytics will operate as a separate and independent business unit and continue under the leadership of Mr Nick Grantham who has led the company – together with his respective teams in Singapore and Malaysia - since inception; he has over 25 years of experience in the analytical business in S.E Asia. Mr Grantham will continue to be based both in Singapore and Malaysia.

Alexander C. Melchers, Managing Director of Melchers Singapore, will join the Board of Directors of both Nexus entities; he is based in Singapore.

Melchers Group considers this a strategic acquisition to increase its footprint in the analytical and material characterization business, and will support Mr Grantham and his team to further expand the business both in the existing territories and in South East Asia.

Melchers Group is organized as a holding organisation; Nexus Analytics will grow organically while having access to the organisation and infrastructure of the Melchers Group in Asia.

The range of services and products offered by Nexus Analytics are highly complementary to the various activities of the Melchers Group – particularly in the sales of technical equipment, instruments and machinery.
